Atlas of Guilford Township, Hendricks County, 1878

"Of particular interest is the group of Friends who migrated from the Island of Nantucket (off the coast of Massachusetts) where about two-thirds of the people were Quakers. <sup>17</sup> This migration began in 1770, and ended in 1775, as the War for Independence approached. The threat of war with the British had something to do with their coming, for Nantucket was in an extremely exposed position. Perhaps a further reason was that the whaling industry upon which Nantucket Friends depended had declined. As Elijah Coffin put it: "The island of Nantucket being small, and its soil not very productive, a large number of people could not be supported thereon." (Libni Coffin was the first Nantucket Friend to arrive at New Garden.) During a five-year period, 1770-1775, forty-three certificates for Nantucket Friends were received by New Garden. Included were such names as Barnard, Barney, Beard, Bunker, Clasby, Coffin, Coggeshall, Davis, Gardner, Gifford, Macy, Ray, Russell, Starbuck, Stanton, Swain, Sweet, Way and Worth."

Guilford Township, Hendricks County (1865) / Decatur Township, Marion County (1866)

Ancestry Background

- Samuel Starbuck was born in Clinton County, Ohio in 1812
- Samuel Starbuck and Rebecca Furnas (1st wife) move to Hendricks County in 1834 (Quaker records)
- Home is constructed around 1843
- Rebecca Furnas dies 1846, Samuel remarries to Luzena Jessup in 1848, Isaac Starbuck born 1849
- Newspaper clipping from 1898 places Samuel and Luzena Starbuck (Jessup) in their same home on their 50th wedding anniversary before they are listed as "boarders" with their daughter and sonin-law in 1900. By 1904, the property is listed as owned by a different Starbuck relation, and by 1929 it had passed out of the Starbuck family.
- Home is occupied into the 1990's and demolished by 2003.

"The home was in the country a dozen miles southwest of Indianapolis. Woodlands interspersed with fertile fields stretched away seemingly without end. The house was an ample and well-appointed one for those years. Along with a smokehouse and a springhouse it was of brick, made with clay tramped out under the feet of oxen. It stands in perfect condition after nearly a century. It was placed near a perpetual clear spring that was the stopping-and-chatting-place for neighbours for many miles around." (Andrews et al. 1937).

-Edwin D. Starbuck (b. 1866), 10th child of Samuel and Luzena Starbuck

Conclusions

- Production of utilitarian redwares concurrent with consumption of fine ceramics – participation in local and macro economies
- Production of redwares not recorded as a major economic activity, likely only for consumption/use by the Starbuck farmstead, familial relations, and perhaps the local Quaker community
- Redware possibly being produced for local dairy farming needs
- Potter is unknown, no makers marks recorded on recovered artifacts from the site
- Starbuck groundhog kilns only ¼ the average size of late 19th-early 20th century groundhog kilns
- Groundhog kiln is evidence of the influence of southern folk pottery tradition on Quaker migrants to Indiana and Ohio
