1. Booking Through Chase Travel Portal

You can directly book flights using points through the portal. Depending on your credit card, points may be worth:

- 1.25x value (mid-tier cards)
- 1.5x value (premium cards)

This means your points stretch further when booking international tickets.

2. Transferring Points to Airline Partners

Another powerful strategy is transferring points to airline loyalty programs like:

- Singapore Airlines

Transfers are typically 1:1, and you can unlock better value, especially for business or first-class seats.
